GRAND TRUNK OFFICIALS ARE EN ROUTE WEST

General Manager Morse and Party Left Montreal for the North West—Will Probably Visit Edmonton to Arrange Agreement With City

INDIAN MURDERER HANGED

Kamloops, B.C., Jan. 6.—In the jail-yard this morning the sentence of death was duly executed upon the Indian Chewilna, otherwise known as "Wild Alec," tried and convicted at the autumn assizes of the murder of a fellow tribesman known as "Old Hopkins." The murderer went to his death with stoicism, making no statement. He professed the Roman Catholic faith in his later hours.

The murder for which Wild Alex was hanged occurred on the road between Spence's Bridge and Penticton, in the Similkameen country. Wild Alex, an Indian girl, and her father, were travelling on the road with two teams of horses and a couple of wagons. Alex got the old man drunk, and, separating the two teams and sending him ahead, he dropped back and tried to outrage the girl. She drew a knife and fought for her life, and in the fight Wild Alex killed her. He was captured a little later in the vicinity of Vernon and tried at the fall assizes there last October.

A CHICAGO BOY CONFESSES CRIME

Chicago, Jan. 6.—Wm. J. Moran, 19 years old confessed last night to having killed Robert Collier, 17 years old, during a quarrel. After the crime Moran placed Collier's body on a railway track in the hope that a passing train would hide the evidences of his crime. The accidental discovery of the body before the train had passed disclosed the fact that Collier had been shot. The body had first been taken from Moran's barn where the murder occurred to a vacant barn nearby and then carried to the railway tracks.

WILL COMBINE TWO PORTFOLIS

Toronto, Jan. 5.—The Toronto Globe announces today that the Inland Revenue and Customs departments will be added together and that a new Department of mines will be created with Senator Templeton at its head. In this way British Columbia is to receive representation in the Cabinet. The Inland Revenue and Customs departments, it is said are to be amalgamated and placed under Mr. Paterson, while Brodeur goes to the Marine and Fisheries department. In this way there will be no increase in the number of ministers.

MAY REMOVE THE EMBARGO

New British Government Disposed to Remove Restriction on Canadian Cattle

London, Jan. 5.—Earl Carrington, the new president of the Board of Agriculture, received this afternoon a deputation advocating the removal of the restriction on the importation of Canadian cattle and promised that so soon as the election is over he will immediately take up the question and urge his colleagues to treat it from an imperial as well as a national point of view. The Earl's reply raised the hopes of those who are interested in prevailing upon the new Government to introduce the legislation necessary to permit the importation of cattle from Canada.

SASKATCHEWAN RETURNS.

The official declaration of the returning officer of the Cannington constituency shows Stewart, the Liberal candidate, elected by a majority of 73 over McDiarmid, the Opposition candidate.

A Mafeking despatch says: Parties just arrived from the north bring information of the result of the voting at three of the northern polls in the Kinistino constituency At Cumberland Sanderson, Liberal, has 14 majority, with 11 protested ballots, most of which will be in Sanderson's favor. Barrier gives Sanderson 10 majority, while Birch River give him a majority of six. Pine Bluff and Sturgeon River have not yet been heard from, but they are both considered as safe for Sanderson, whose majority now stands at 50.

The result of the polling in Batoche was declared by Returning Officer J. H. Currie to be the election of Mr. William Grant, of Vonda, the Liberal candidate, by a majority of 559 from J. B. Bouchier, the Opposition candidate.

C. M. Abbott, returning officer for the Yorkton District, has counted the 1,5[illegible] votes which were cast in the recent election. Out of these Mr. Dunlop secured 538 and Mr. Garry 777.

REGINA WANTS THE CAPITAL

Regina, Jan. 5.—The council has decided to give Victoria Square, seven acres in the heart of the city, valued at $75,000, to the Saskatchewan government for a parliament building site.

LETHBRIDGE WOULD BE A CITY.

Lethbridge, Jan. 5.—The town council has decided to petition the Alberta Legislature for incorporation as a city.

ROBLIN MAY GO TO PEOPLE.

Winnipeg, Jan. 5.—It is rumored here that the local government has decided to go to the country at the close of the present session, though the present term is not yet expired, nor will it expire for some time.

The reason given is that the building of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway is making the Liberal party exceedingly popular, and the administration fears to take a risk.

TO DISPOSE OF THE HELPLESS

American Physician Joins Society to Kill Off Incurables

Philadelphia, Jan. 6.—Dr. Charles Elliot Norton of Cambridge has joined forces with Miss Aline S. Hall, of Cincinatti, and with Mrs. Maud Ballington Booth, in their campaign for the killing off of the hopelessly insane, hopelessly diseased and victims of accidents. His views are expressed in a letter made public today.

Invitations have been issued for the open installation of officers of Jasper Lodge No. 6, Knights of Pythias, to be held in Houston's hall on Monday evening, January 8th. Clarke's orchestra will furnish music. The reception committee are H. C. Taylor, Dr. Forin, W. E. Grierson, A. E. Potter, W. A. Griesbach, and Wm. Storey. The installing officers are R. Hoekley, W. B. Stennett, Wm. Coffey, and Rev. Mr. George of Strathcona. A good time is expected.

FORT FARMERS ORGANIZE.

A meeting was held in Langworthy Hall, Fort Saskatchewan, on Saturday afternoon at 3 p.m., for the purpose of discussing the advisability of forming a branch association of the Alberta Farmers' Association.

Mr. F. A. Walker, M.P.P., acted as chairman, and there was a fairly good number of representative farmers present.

Mr. D. W. Warner, president of Central Association, in a lengthy speech explained the objects of the organization, and read the constitution.

The Vice-President, Mr. W. F. Stevens, the Secretary, Mr. Rice Sheppard, and Messrs. Fulton, Keith and Ottewell, also spoke, and emphasized the urgent necessity for farmers to organize and pointed out the many substantial advantages to be gained by doing so.

Mr. Moran was heartily in favor of a system of organization among farmers, and would have liked to have seen wider powers given to the constitution.

After the discussion of several matters of great interest, the chairman asked for a show of hands on the question as to whether it would be desirable to establish a local branch of the Alberta Farmers' Association. The farmers present appeared to be unanimously in favor of organizing a branch association.

It was suggested that lists be circulated for the signatures of all those who are desirous of joining the Association. Several signatures were obtained in the hall, and the signers elected from among themselves a temporary chairman and secretary to act until the 20th of January, when it is proposed to hold a public meeting of all interested, and then organize a local branch. Mr. J. M. Moran was appointed temporary chairman, and B. C. d'Easum, temporary secretary.

The public meeting for organization purposes will be held in Langworthy Hall on Saturday afternoon, 20th January at 2 p.m. That day was chosen because the Government Seed Train special will be at the Fort from 10 to 11 a.m. on that morning.

YOUNG IMMIGRANT ACCIDENTALLY DROWN

Fell in a Well While Watering Cattle on a Manitoba Farm

Shoal Lake, Jan. 6.—A young immigrant named Wilson, employed on John Slater's farm, about seven miles from Shoal Lake while watering cattle at the well accidently fell in. He made no outcrry and it was some time before his dead body was found. He was evidently stunned on the ice in his fall. His parents live in England. The coroner decided that an inquest would be unnecessary.

BANK TELLER SUICIDES.

Despondent at the prospect of having to leave his position in the bank, and worried over the future of his young wife and himself, Robert McCosh, receiving teller in the Bank of Commerce at Winnipeg, committed suicide in his rooms on Tuesday, by shooting himself in the temple. Death was instantaeous, and when his young wife and the landlady Mrs. McDonald, who were sitting at the breakfast table, aroused by the shot, rushed up-stairs, they found the young man quite dead, lying on the floor, with a revolver clutched in his right hand. On the table was found a letter written that morning, in which he bade his wife goodbye, telling her of the uselessness of further keeping up the struggle, but giving no hint of any trouble which would warrant him taking the desperate measures he did to end his life.

CANADIAN ON TRIAL IN MONTANA COURT

The Alleged Murderer of Watson Oliver, an Alberta Homesteader, is Arraigned in Helena—Promises to be a Notable Trial

Helena, Montana, Jan. 6.—Special to the Bulletin.—The trial of Camille Remy, a Frenchman accused of murdering Mr. Weson Oliver, at Wolf Creek, Montana, on the 22nd of September, which was commenced here yesterday before Judge Smith, promises to be among the most noted murder trials in the history of the United States.

Lieut.Governor Morris, a friend of the murdered man's family is assisting in the prosecution, and former Attorney-General Nolan is acting for the prosecution.

The crime for which Remy is being tried is one of mostf mabmtvee ing tried is one of horrible brutality. Remy is a native of Paris in France, and came to America about a year ago. In the spring of last year he went out on the Canadian Northern Railway, where he worked as a timekeeper in Battleford in the month of June, and the early part of July. Leaving there he went to Winnipeg, where he forged a couple of McKenzie & Mann time checks for $800, and fled for the west. In the latter end of July he was in Alberta, and in the neighborhood of Lethbridge met Weson Oliver, who was travelling with a four horse team and a prairie schooner outfit. Oliver had come over from Montana to take up land and had located a quarter section in the country east of Wetaskiwin, and at the time when Remy met him he was on his way back to his home, near Helena. Remy had a couple of horses and a wagon, which have never been accounted for, and he proposed to Oliver that as he was going to Montana, and did not know the trails very well, that they travel together. They did so, and as far as is known were about three weeks in company, crossing the line and driving near to Helena by a route that took them some three hundred miles. At Wolf Creek, just one day's travel out of Helena, the murder occurred for which Remy is now standing trial. Remy is accused of having clubbed young Oliver to death, and having stolen his possessions. After leaving Wolf Creek Remy drove toward Helena, but camped one night between the two places and burned Oliver's wagon, all but the wheels, which he sold next day to a rancher for $2. It was this transaction which found him out, for Remy gave the rancher a receipt in Weson Oliver's name. A week or so later, the rancher, thinking that there must be something wrong or the wheels would not have been sold to him at that price, wrote a letter addressed to Weson Oliver in Helena, which letter was received by Oliver's father.

Investigation was immediately started, and Oliver's body was found buried in the bank of the Several lots on First, Second, Third and Fourth streets, West End, north of Jasper, from $2000 up to $4500 each. All good safe buying and sure of increase in value before many months.

Improved farms. There is sure to be a rise of values in the spring. We have several snaps at present in Stony Plain, Clover Bar, and Sturgeon. What we cannot show you in good value will be hard indeed to find from $10 to $40 per acre and close in to Edmonton City.

Unimproved farms. We have several large tracts of country lying along the new railroad line from $6 per acre and easy terms. The best of deep black loam and clay subsoil and partly clear of brush, plenty of good water.

For Family Colds

A reliable cough and cold cure should be always in the house ready for use the moment the first symptoms appear.

It is always easier, cheaper and better to check a cold in the very beginning.

It is safer, too.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure, the Lung Tonic, has been tested for thirty-three years, and tens of thousands of homes in Canada and the United States to-day are never without it.

A dealer writes: "Shiloh's Consumption Cure is without doubt the best remedy for Coughs and Colds on the market. Once used, my customers will buy no other.—L. Exley, Nanagavera, Ont."

If it were anything but the best would this be so? Try it in your own family. If it does not cure, you get back all it cost you. We take all the chances. Neither you nor your dealer can lose. Isn't that fair? 25c. is the price. All dealers in medicine sell 553

A WESTERN IDYLL

(From the Monetary Times.)

It was long ago, and far away. The buffalo roamed the plains, and the reindeer was not even harnessed to an Esquimaux sleigh. The arctic fox and the polar bear, the moose and the wapiti, the beaver and the otter, wandered at will, their only foe, the Indian, for the white man and his "fire-tube" had not reached these "great wastes. Neither for food nor for furs were these animals chased, since man, proud man of the civilized sort, was yet far away from the region.

Half way from Hudson's Bay to the Pacific—half way from the Mexico Bay to the Arctic waters—in the great territory between the Rocky Mountains, Lake Athabasca and Lake Winnipeg, stretched the great territory that so lately was made a state. Summer bloomed and died; winter came and went among the quiet lakes and rivers, and still the hardy European explorers who searched the ocean on either side—the interior sea as well—and who crossed the continent farther south from the Ottawa to the Mississippi beyond, had failed to visit this great interior land, and left it to the habitation of animals.

But the civilizer was coming; the explorer and trader would not be denied. Scientist and priest in one, he sought the secret of the Great West. In 1770, we are told, Hearne planted a fort on the lower waters of the Saskatchewan river. Not long afterward Edmonton House was placed near where Edmonton now stands, and became, we are told, the central post of a district extending 200 miles north and east, and almost to the Rockies on the west. Up from the south, to look for quarrel with their foe, the Cree, or perchance to trade for furs, came Blood, Piegan and Blackfoot Indian. "Many were the alarms and excursions which startled the pickets of the dead-be-spattered old stockade, many the successful ambuscade along the winding trail of the river, many the long-drawn skirmish which flickered and crackled fitfully among the wooded slopes back of the fort." These savages gone, life went on quietly enough with the Hudson's Bay Company folk; carpenters, blacksmiths, boatmen, traders, the great event of the calendar in this far outpost of trade and civilization being the arrival of the "brigade" of boats and later of the annual steamer with the year's supplies.

In the early sixties came the miners, from far Montana, Kootenay and Cariboo, looking for placer gold on the banks of the great river, and a dozen years later the Mounted Police to establish Fort Saskatchewan. And in the hope that the Canadian Pacific Railway would take the northern route, which two lines in succession are now exploiting, came in 1880 settlers to Edmonton. "Their arrival," writes Mr. G. E. Grogan, "was the first beginning of things in Edmonton as a town as distinguished from a trading post. Traders, missionaries, miners, soldiers, are all necessary as pioneers of a new country, but it is the settler, the man of cows and crops, who really counts." Presently, he adds, "a little irregular cluster of log shacks and small frame buildings began to rise on the bank of the river, where now stretches the east end of Jasper avenue. There was another small business centre on the hill just west of the fort. Along the trails, through the woods between, one came upon a church, a saloon, a store, as the chance of the road might happen."

But a railway was to come. George M. Grant and Sanford Fleming made the trip from ocean to ocean and told the people of Eastern Canada what English hunters and explorers had already told the world of the vast possibilities of our North-West Territories. The Calgary and Edmonton railway was built and immigration into what is now Northern Alberta began. And the growth in the neighborhood of Edmonton, plus its splendid position on the high bank of the great river led to the choice of that place as the capital of a province destined for a great future. Already the Canadian Northern Railway track runs into Edmonton, and soon it will be connected by the Grand Trunk Pacific with the far East and West.

Not to deal too much in figures of distances, startling as these are, we come to Edmonton of today, stirring, picturesque, modern. Ten years ago it was the merest village, the black mud of the prairie forming its streets; and nearly three quarters of it have been built during the last four years. The census of 1901 showed a town of 1,652 people, while today it has 8,000. The assessable value of the town in 1901 was $1,395,912, and the assessment figures of the city for 1905 will approach $6,000,000. From this point can best be reached the distant regions along the North Saskatchewan, the mighty Athabasca, Peace and Mackenzie Rivers, their numerous tributaries, and the great northern lakes. Says Mr. E. T. Fisher in a recent pamphlet, "The changing of the creaking cart, and canoe and York boat for railroad and steamer, the retirement of the red man to make room for his white brother; the replacement of the buffalo which once made the prairie resound to the thunder of their hoofs, wit, the more useful, if less picturesque, Shorthorns and Herefords; the exchanging of the trap and rifle for plow and selfbinder; the transition from tent and wigwam to comfortable farm house and stately city home, all this has not discredited the judgment of the early traders. Edmonton is still, and will remain, the gateway of the North-West. Edmonton is still one of the greatest primary markets for fur on this continent, and the volume of its trade with the great north is very large.

Nor are the ranch, the farm and the fur trade the only features which must make this district rich. Among the potential elements which at first were likely to upbuild the town, coal was not thought of; but coal lies in plenty in the streets of Edmonton, whose residents can place it in their cellars at $3 per ton for grate bituminous, while factories can have "slack" for half that price. Sewerage, water-works, electric light, fire-fighting appliances, the telephone—all these are undertaken by the city. More than this, a dozen villages are already connected by wire and there is a farmers' telephone line through Clover Bar and Agricola settlements, so that these Western agriculturalists and merchants have "bettered the instruction" of their Eastern exemplars.

Nothing that a vigorous, enterprising community needs for comfort and convenience has been neglected by this modern town, whose residents wisely have supplied themselves with means of education and social advancement.

The scale upon which all this development has been launched, the rapidity of its extension, the romantic character of its transition, the extraordinary confidence of its people justify us in calling the conversion of this distant community, from a mere stockade into a prosperous city, An Idyll—or, better still, A Matter-of-Fact-Romance. Not a creation, but the construction by strong minds and willing hands of a great and interesting reality out of what was for a long time a prairie dream. The possibilities of the wide Canadian West are immense. Its wonders are untold. Its interest is endless.

DISCREET PATRIOTISM

The attitude which Canadian manufacturers would be likely to assume towards Mr. Chamberlain's scheme for securing the Canadian market to the British cloth manufacturers may be gathered from the following item appearing in an Ontario exchange: "Mr. Simpson, the manager of the Montreal Cotton Company, whose mills are at Valleyfield, wants the duty on white and gray cotton goods woven in strips, checks and brocades increased to 30 per cent. He complains that British competition is unfair, and asserts that at the close of the season English manufacturers slash prices and dump their goods upon the Canadian market." Theoretically Canadian manufacturers are patriotic even to the point of preferential tariff, but practically each manufacturer wants his goods exempt from the preference.

UNEXPECTED COMMENDATION

How far estray the aspiring editor of the Toronto World has wandered from the path prescribed by Mr. Borden is revealed in the following sane admission recently appearing in the World:

"If to-day's prophecies are fulfilled the Grand Trunk Pacific will be at Edmonton in the fall of 1907. So may it be. Predictions sometimes come true. The G.T.P. is a big proposition.

"Four months ago, when the 275 mile contract for the road from Portage la Prairie to the Touchwood Hills was let to Macdonald and MacMillan, the Grand Trunk Pacific chiefs were hoping that next fall would see their rails into the capital of Alberta. It was a hope worthy of men of illimitable confidence. They thought that they could build the road easily enough, if Canada could make the rails as quickly as they were needed. Nine hundred miles was admittedly a tall order, and the chances of obtaining the steel were not good.

"The fact is that grading cannot be done at breakneck speed. The C. P. R. was laid up hill and down at remarkable speed, with a scrupulous regard to constructional expense. The science of railroading has become infinitely scientific since those days. A notable proportion of C.P.R. track has been quite newly laid. Your modern engineer does not intend to haul wheat up a steeper grade than one-half of one per cent. With very much more powerful engines and easier grades, C. P. R. trains may each contain 1750 tons of wheat against an average of about 350 tons in the late eighties. All this means slower construction. And when material has to be hauled over new lines just built there is a limit to building speed not fixed by the contingencies of mere grading. The Grand Trunk Pacific will do well if it sells tickets at Edmonton in twenty-two months from now.

"The bed of the new road will be first rate. The example of J. J. Hill, the Great Northern builder, is being followed. All necessary funds are easily available, so that economy in future running instead of cheeseparing in construction is the paramount consideration with the controlling minds. The road will have fewer curves than any of its seniors, and the omens for straight dealing with the public are pleasing enough."

Whatever may have been the purpose of the World in knifing Mr. Borden's "railway policy" in this fashion, and however valuable or otherwise the commendation of the World may be, its sentiments on this occasion will find little criticism in the West.

BAD LOSERS

It is the melancholy privilege of a defeated party to draw what consolation or encouragement it may from explanations of the why and wherefore of the catastrophe—a privilege which we have no intention of seeking to curtail and which we trust will long be extended to the Conservatives of Saskatchewan. But there is a species of explanation which overreaches the broadest privilege and bears its condemnation in its appearance. In this brand of excuse the Regina Standard is now indulging to a degree which appears to have reacted upon its propagator and produced a state of frenzied disregard for all semblance of veracity or responsibility. A fair specimen of this frantic protestation appeared in a recent issue under the heading "Not by prayers," the two columns of which may be reduced to the charge that the Saskatchewan elections were won by the participation of Government officials, by the provisions of the election act and by frauds in naturalization.

The accusation against employees of the Federal Government was dealt with fairly and openly during the campaign when the supporters of Mr. Haultain were invited by the Minister of the Interior to produce evidence of any such employee having endeavored to intimidate electors in the exercise of the franchise on the assurance that such proof would be followed by prompt dismissal. That such invitation was not accepted and that the Standard ventures now only to make such charges in the most general and indefinite language is sufficient commentary on the character both of the allegation and of the journalistic apologist.

It is alleged that the election law provided for the use of colored pencils instead of printed ballots is "too aboriginal." If so why was this discovered at the last general Territorial election? Or why did not Mr. Haultain amend the ordinance during the past ten years?

We are told "that not more than "half of the electors who supported "Liberal candidates on polling day had "any idea of the issues at stake, or "even of the personality of the re- "spective candidates." As the Liberal candidates polled something like three quarters of the popular vote of the province this compliment to the Saskatchewan electorate is pointed rather than delicate.

The naturalization frauds we are assured, were beyond description and are given a tragic instance of one election agent who estimated approximately the result in a division of Lumsden. We have recollection of several other pre-election predictions in which no Liberal worker had a hand and it may not be presuming too much to suggest that the chief complaint of the Haultainites is that the Liberal guess proved the more accurate.

And we are told "The Haultain men "had no means of preventing these "frauds, because their supply of money "for election purposes were nil." How came it then that Mr. Haultain stumped the province of Saskatchewan several months since promising to "put "an organizer in every constituency?" Whence the means for this organisation of an entire province if the funds were nil? Was this organization not carried out? Or were the organizers unable to locate any frauds? Or were the frauds non-existent until the time for explanations came?

Without wishing to extinguish any gleam of hope which may be raised by the livid imagery of our Regina contemporary it looks from a distance as if the Saskatchewan disruptionists were "bad losers."

Literary Notes

A VOLUME OF CANADIAN VERSE

"The collected poems of Wilfrid Campbell" is the name of a recent volume published by William Briggs, Toronto. Typographically the book leaves nothing to be desired, nor has the selection of the contents been less satisfactory. In the preface the author announces that " The verse contained in this collection is all, not dramatic in form, which the author cares to preserve." A large number of the poems have been selected from the author's previously published works, several are new and others have appeared in periodicals. The character of the contents amply justifies the judgment of Mr. Campbell in resting his reputation on this volume. Though the author is still a comparatively young poet, and one from whom in the ordinary course of things much may be expected equalling if not surpassing any of his previous productions, the poems presented in the "collection" are thoroughly representative of the genius to which they owe their origin. The place of Mr. Campbell in the field of Canadian letters is an honored one and fairly earned and this selection of the best in lyrical form that he has yet published will receive an endearing welcome from thousands of admiring countrymen.

BOARD OF TRADE ANNUAL

The regular monthly meeting of the Edmonton board of trade will be held in the council chamber of the city hall on Tuesday evening next and any number of important questions are to be placed before the members. Among the most important is the question of the local telephone service, on which a communication embodying very important points will be read and useful and enlightening discussions will undoubtedly follow.

A special committee appointed for the purpose will present a report with regard to the post office and present accommodations and the matter of the $10 switching charge will also be gone into for bringing cars of freight from Strathcona to the C.N.R. depot.

Another matter on which there will undoubtedly be considerable talk is the new immigration building, which it is pointed out is to be the same size and design as the Brandon immigration building.

Another matter which will undoubtedly interest a great many of the members is a letter from the Calgary board of trade asking the Edmonton board to support them in their efforts to secure the Dominion fair for 1907.

These and a number of other important affairs will make a busy session for the board on Tuesday evening.

ALBERTA NOTES

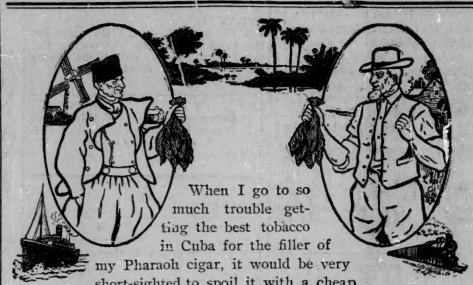

—Calgary Albertan: Though Calgary is nominally under the commission system, the commissioners have not begun work yet and are not likely to do so until after the meeting next week. The reason for this is quite apparent as there seems to be a disposition on the part of some members of the council to amend the commission bylaw or repeal it entirely. On the other hand, there are members of the council who are quite as intent upon having the commission tested as the last council recommended.

—Red Deer News: We think an apology is due Lieut.-Gov. Bulyea for the way in which he was deluged with rice by some of the fair, young matrons of our town on Tuesday evening Dec. 26. It was the evening on which Mr. J. L. Crawford and bride started on their honeymoon. The Lieut.-Gov. was on the train near the door, and the ladies in quest of Mr. Crawford, mistook in the dining car his Honor for that gentleman giving him a copious shower of rice. Red Deer never does anything by halves. We assure His Honor that the pleasure of having his own honeymoon thus forcibly recalled to his mind, is doubtless sufficient compensation for any little discomfort he may have experienced.

—A Raymond despatch says: It is reported from an unusually reliable source that the rumor current some weeks ago to the effect that the Kline farm on the southern outskirts of the town had been bought on behalf of J. J. Hill, of the Great Northern in connection with his projected linking up of his system with Regina, was actually founded on fact. The statement is strengthened by the knowledge that quite recently several purchases of land have been effected between Regina and the Soo Line by parties known to be in touch with the G. N. R. It is also stated that J. J. Hill is behind the bill that will be introduced by the Regina and Saskatchewan Railway Company at the first sitting of the Provincial Legislature, the main object of which bill is the leasing or purchase of the Qu'Appelle, Long Lake and Saskatchewan Valley Railroad, at present known as the Prince Albert Branch of the C. P. R.

NEW LAND COMPANY

Ottawa, Jan. 5.—The Michigan-Saskatchewan Land Co. with a capital of $100,000 has been incorporated.

When I go to so much trouble getting the best tobacco in Cuba for the filler of my Pharaoh cigar, it would be very short-sighted to spoil it with a cheap binder and wrapper.

Of course the binder and wrapper are only about 20 per cent. of the cigar, but I do not let that small portion drop below the high standard I have set for the other 80 per cent. of my Pharaoh Cigar.

To hold the filler together I use a Connecticut broadleaf binder. This is the best binder money can buy.

It is this personal care which I give to every detail in the manufacture of my Pharaoh cigar that makes it such a superior smoke. It is a full flavored, palatable, mellow cigar. Price 10c.

PONOKA ITEMS

Ponoka, Jan. 5.—Hearty congratulations were despatched to our worthy mayor, who is now in the east, when the announcement of his engagement became known. Mr. McKinnell is held in the highest esteem, being one of the old timers. Besides looking after his store business closely, he finds time to take part in every endeavor to help build up the town and community. Among the many public offices he has held is that of president of the Liberal Association.

Special New Year's meetings took place in the various churches in town this week.

It is reported that Jos. Astel, well known here, and who owns a ranch at Buffalo Lake has fallen heir to a large fortune.

More interest is being taken in the election of school trustees than in former years and it is hoped representative parties will come forward for election.

F. A. Fox, manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce here, is to have temporary charge of the branch which is to be opened in Wetaskiwin on the 5th.

The "Royal Household" brand on a barrel or bag of flour means that Ogilvies guarantee that flour to be the best—that if it is not satisfactory you may return it and get your money back.

That is your protection.

Most people do not realize the necessity of absolute purity in flour—great care is taken to use only pure milk, pure water, etc., but flour, that one thing that forms the greatest part of their food, is taken on chance—but they are learning better.

As Royal Household Flour is the only flour in this country thoroughly purified and sterilized by electricity is it not worth while to give it at least at trial.

It bears the stamp of the most responsible makers. You can have no better guarantee than the Ogilvie Flour Mills Co.

McDonald will preach in McDougall Methodist church, and Rev. C. H. Huestis in the Baptist church. Rev. T. T. Riekie and Rev. A. S. Tuttle will make a like exchange, occupying Grace Methodist and Queen's avenue Presbyterian churches respectively. These exchanges will take place at the morning service, the pastors preaching in their own pulpits in the evening. The only exception to the general exchange will be in the First Presbyterian church. Rev. A. Ewing, who comes to supply during the remainder of Dr. McQueen's absence, did not think it would be fitting to be away on the first Sunday of his term here. Announcements will be made from the churches tomorrow as to the meetings during the week.

SUNDAY SCHOOL OFFICERS ELECTED

The annual meeting of the teachers and officers of the First Presbyterian church was held last evening and was a very representative gathering. The reports of the various organizations were read. The Sunday school renewed its pledge to provide a missionary for the home mission field, and pledged themselves to give the money received from the monthly mission collections for this purpose. The collections at the end of the year would amount to over $100. The election of officers resulted as follows: Superintendent, H. W. B. Douglas; associate superintendent, J. Whitelaw; secretary, D. McCorkindale; treasurer, Jas. McDougall; pianist, Miss Alice McDougall; leader of Sunday school choir, J. Whitelaw; librarian, Arch. West; assistant librarian, J. McKinnon; Bible class teacher, D. S. McKenzie, of the Department of Education.

Mr. McKenzie will not commence his duties as Bible class teacher until the 1st of February, Rev. Mr. Ewing taking the class in the meantime.

Votes of thanks were tendered the officers of the past year for their services, and a most hearty vote of thanks was given Mrs. Fred Ross for her kindness and assistance in preparing the cantata which was given last week.

After all business was disposed of, those present had an enjoyable social hour or two.

FARMERS' PAGE

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF EQUITY

Edmonton, January 2.

Editor Bulletin:—

Dear Sir,—

Kindly allow me a little space in your valuable paper to correct a mistake in your issue of January 1.

In an item of the Alberta Farmers Association over the signature of its berta bean. And the growth in the president, Mr. Warner, it says that the members of the Grain Growers Association and the American Society of Equity have drafted a constitution "which they thought would be wide enough to cover every farmer."

We do not say that there is any intention to deceive in this matter but in the way it is written it is very misleading.

I do not care to go back and relate events which are now so well known to members of both societies, but will only state that the members of the American Society of Equity by an overwhelming majority decided not to accept the proposed constitution, and one of their principal reasons was "Because of its narrowness" so that if the practically unanimous opinion of some five hundred farmers is any test, the broadness of the views of the men behind the constitution is questionable.

While the Alberta Farmers Association has a large number of objects, the American Society of Equity has only one at present and that is to secure a profitable price for everything a farmer grows, and to that one ooject we are bending all our energies.

The American Society of Equity are determined to keep out of politics, and have refused several cunning attempts to bring them into the political cauldron. The farmers who are members of our grand society have determined that they can and will work out their salvation without asking favors from the Government or any one else. When the proper time comes we will speak as united farmers in a tone of voice that will be quickly heeded, but as we said before at present we shall devote all our efforts towards increasing the size of our incomes, which have for ages past been slowly vanishing.

Mr. Editor, the Society of Equity have a number of other worthy objects, with which I will not burden you, but we find the farmers do not care a copper for them, so long as they are compelled to sell 28c. oats for 22c and 90c wheat for 55c. But the great plan of "Controlled Marketing" will remedy this. The farmer who thinks knows this, and that is the reason our society is spreading almost of itself. Once we have Canada organized, the world will be organized, for our plan is adopted in England, Germany, Italy, New Zealand and Australia.

Our organizers are only waiting a word from farmers anywhere, and they will readily give farmers the chance to join the greatest farmers' movement the world has yet seen, and a plan that has already taken millions of dollars out of the pockets of greed and speculation and placed them in the pockets of the farmers where it rightfully belongs.

Yours truly,
WILL J. KEEN,
Drawer 5, Edmonton. Secretary.

FRANCE PEACEABLE

Paris, Jan. 4.—The ambassador of one of the powers said today that a careful enquiry had convinced him that the recent revival of France's military activity which has given rise to alarming reports was due mainly to a change from the military methods of M. Berteaux, the late Minister of War to those of M. Etienne, the present War Minister M. Berteaux belonged to the socialists, whose cardinal principle is opposition to war and reduction of military expenditures. That naturally resulted in activity in military preparation. M. Etienne, on the contrary is not affiliated with the socialists, but represents the energetic element which maintains that the country should prepare to meet every eventuality. M. Etienne has adopted a vigorous policy, not for belligerent purposes, but for execution of the general desire to have the army in a perfect state of efficiency.

This coming coincident with the France-German incident over Morocco, led to the widespread impression that the military preparations were designed to meet eventualities arising from the Morocan controversy.

Paris Jan. 4.—The new army law which was adopted by the overwhelming majority at the last session of the Chambers of Deputies, has gone into effect, and it is believed will give general satisfaction. The new law reduces the term of actual service in the army from three to two years. On the other hand it renders every Frenchman liable, and abolishes all former exceptions concerning widows' sons and bread winners. While such young men are serving in the army those dependent upon them will be assisted by the State. Men hitherto freed from military service owing to weakness will be enrolled in an auxiliary corps. It is maintained that this law will not decrease the numbers of the army on a peace footing, which is 550,000, but military experts are of the opinion that their will be a slight reduction of about 25,000 because one-half of the active army will be released annually instead of one-third as heretofore, and that the abolition of exemptions does not compensate for this.

The principle of the new law is all round equality. In carrying out this principle the pupils of cadet schools must serve one year in the ranks before beginning their studies, while students in the various professions heretofore serving only twelve months must hereforth serve one year as ordinary soldiers and then, on passing examinations, become reserve officers during the second year of their service.

SPORTS

CURRAN WON WRESTLING MATCH

The wrestling contest in Robertson's Hall last night between Jack Curran and Kenny Blatchford's team of local men brought out a good crowd, and furnished forty minutes of the best sport that has been seen in the city for a long time.

Blatchford's team mates were Ed. Raemer and Bert Meers. Blatchford was the wrestling man of the team and had the other men been as good Curran would undoubtedly have lost the $100 which he hung up as a prize for the three men who would entertain him for an hour. Raemer put up a very good contest and with a little training and experience would be a dangerous antagonist for any man. In fact Raemer's inexperience led him to precipitate matters where his place as first man was merely to burn up time and get Curran winded. There is no doubt that had Raemer kept on the defensive entirely he could have made his end of the bout last at least ten minutes longer and would have given his partners that much the best of it.

Blatchford showed much better judgment and a far better knowledge of the game than either of the other boys and during the twenty-one and a quarter minutes that he stayed up there was not an uninteresting second..

Raemer was the first man to go on the mat, Curran undoubtedly picking him out as the hardest proposition. There was no time lost in fancy work as neither man seemed to have any fancy for throwing on the agony. Both went to the mat from the turnloose and Raemer for several moments played a purely defence game, avoiding holds and wriggling out of them when he found himself in a dangerous position. At the five minutes Curran got a leg hold while Raemer was on the run and would undoubtedly have had his man but they both went off the mat, and Curran lost his opportunity. During the next five minutes Raemer showed up to good advantage and his superior weight and strength was evident on more than one occasion. At one place, Curran got a scissors and a half Nelson which under ordinary circumstances no man should have escaped from, but Raemer got away by main strength and got onto his feet, breaking clear. A moment later he undertook an aggressive movement which landed him underneath and Curran with a scissors and half Nelson, this time a secure hold, gradually but surely turned him over. The audience had a moment or two of intense excitement while the fall was being made and Raemer was not without support from the benches. The time of the first fall was 10 1-4 minutes.

Blatchford, who came on next, had the advantage of being second man on and what he lacked in weight compared with Raemer he more than made up in science. In fact he made several plays which would do credit to a much older wrestler. On one or two occasions he had Curran in what looked like a bad position, but the ease with which the Montana boy did the head spin and got out of them was the audience's delight of the evening. Blatchford spent all his time on the mat and almost all of it on the defensive, and on one occasion, at the ten minutes got away from a crotch hold and a little later from a scissors in a manner which marked him as a very clever wrestler.

For the last ten minutes of Blatchford's time Curran worked like a beaver and the Edmonton boy gave him an armful of unfinished business that was worth seeing. It was at the 21 minutes that Curran got the hold which disposed of Blatchford and it certainly was a pretty clutch. Curran got him in a crotch hold and stood him on his head, then by clever foot work managed to pin his arms and there was nothing to it but a fall, with Kenny resting on his shoulders and the back of his neck and both shoulders on the mat.

The third man, Meers, had neither the strength nor the skill of his team mates and from the first moment of his turn it was evident that there was nothing to it but Curran for the fall on the short order plan. Only a minute or so after the commencement Curran had him in a dangerous position and from the back seats it looked like a stall when he got away, but Curran had his hand under the man and could not let go to make the touch-down without taking large chances himself.

The fall on Ross was gotten at nine and three-quarter minutes and it was too easy to be spectacular or even interesting.

The audience unanimously admitted that Curran gave a good exhibition and some admirers of the local boys are so well pleased with Blatchford's work that they want to see him take a few pointers from Curran and then seek a match with some other man in his class. If Blatchford learns the wrestling game from a good teacher he will undoubtedly be heard of in that line one of these days.

HCCKEY

Manager Corbett, of the Intermediate Thistles is making arrangements for games with Red Deer, Olds, Leduc, Calgary and other places along the line, to be played in Edmonton during January and February.

The Thistles have not entirely lost hope in life, and a few of the faithful got around to the rink last night and had a little practice. No trainer was on the ice with them, but the boys knocked the puck around in a lively manner for a while. Armytage and Campbell, Elliott and Banford were out, and also Chester Banford of the intermediates. Arnold Johnson and Art Powers were also on the ice for a while last night. Lane did not turn up. Powers is getting into good shape and it will not be his fault if he does not appear with the boys on the ice when they meet Strathcona again.

There will likely be a big change on the team for the next game. This is absolutely certain. There is no reason why the management could not put a team on the ice that would make the Strathconas look like thirty cents. There is material in the city. Even with the present team a far better showing could be made if their practices were conducted anything like a systematic manner. But Manager Griffiths has determined to put a team on the ice for the next game that will win, and it is sincerely hoped that he carries out his intentions. It is possible that Powers will be put on the wing. His proper place of course is cover point. Campbell will go in goal, it is likely, and with that change the team should be able to do something creditable.

CURLING

Two games were played last night in the cup competition and resulted as follows:

L. Howard, J. A. McLean, W. J. Williamson, D. Galbraith, skip 10.
F. Nagel, J. Lynch, A. W. Ormsby, G. J. Kinnaird, skip 9.

A. W. Campbell, R. McIntosh, C. Nairn, Thos. Bellamy, skip 9. C. E. Morris, W. G. Ibbotson, A. E. Moore, H. Campbell, skip,5.

The games for Monday night are: Thom vs. Moore, Ibbotson vs. May, Carmichael vs. Hardisty.

It is proposed to make this banquet the finest thing of its class ever attempted in Alberta. Strathcona has been honored in the appointment and election of one of her citizens to the leadership of the government of this great new province. It is our turn to do him honor in a special and personal manner. A strong committee of representative Liberals have the banquet arrangements in hand and nothing will be left undone to make this function a success. Complimentaries will be issued to all members of Alberta's new Parliament, also to the Premiers of the sister provinces and the Dominion Cabinet.

PERSONAL

Mrs. Whittaker of Lone Spruce was was brought to the general hospital yesterday for treatment.

W. T. Aiken, of the Provincial Public Works department, returned yesterday on the C.N.R., after spending the Christmas holidays in Manitoba.

R. J. Gillis, chief clerk of the Provincial Public Works Department, went south to Calgary on Thursday to meet his mother, who is coming to Edmonton on a visit.

MAY QUIT PROVINCIAL POLITICS.

Regina, Jan. 5.—Mr. F. W. G. Haultain has gone east. He will have a conference with Conservative leaders before returning to the west. There is much talk here in favor of urging Mr. Haultain to stand for the Dominion house in Walter Scott's constituency. His friends are very anxious that he make this change though they fear the consequences to the provincial interests of the party. It is believed here that Mr. Haultain will discuss this feature with the eastern leaders before his return. The high standing of the ex-premier, coupled with his long experience in the Territorial government, gives him a peculiar position in the affections of the party, and if he goes to Ottawa he is expected to at once take a prominent position in Dominion opposition.

SEND IN THE REPORTS

The annual election of councillors for local improvement districts takes place throughout the province Monday. Secretaries of districts are respectfully requested to send the results of the elections to the Bulletin as early as possible for publication. The elections are of very general interest and the publication of the results will be advantageous to all concerned.

THE "SECRET SESSION"

(Calgary Albertan)

The story about the selection of committees, which was made at the city council on Tuesday night last has a sequel, or a secret, which is vastly more interesting than the story of the election itself, sensational as that was.

Some time ago there was a private star chamber session of the council at which the press was excluded.

On the day after the meeting, the mayor in dilating upon the virtues of secret meetings, pointed out what had been done, how he had explained more fully the commission idea, and that the new aldermen had asked questions, and had received answers and generally the meeting was agreeable, in fact amiable, instructive and advantageous. Of course no such trifling matters as committees or the chairmen thereof were ever discussed.

There was method then, in the decision made by the members of the council at the meeting on Tuesday night, to refrain from ever mentioning the number of ballots that should be recorded for the different candidates. In all probability at that or some subsequent private meeting it had been decided that such a course should be adopted.

To any person who looked over the vote cast at council meeting, and practically no opportunity was given to look over such vote, there was a startling sameness about every ballot cast. The gentlemen elected in almost every case had ten votes and there were two struggling votes.

The two struggling votes are accounted for by the fact that two of the aldermen, Ald. Clarke and Ramsay did not attend the star chamber session, where the committees were selected, and in the private archives of the city hall, with doors locked, a slate was made out and the representatives of the city, with all the appearance of conspirators, mapped out the business of the city.

creek, with his skull crushed in. Sheriff Scharrenbough, of Helena, took up the chase, and one of the greatest man-hunts in the records of American criminology followed. Oliver headed north from Helena Gateway, which is on the British Columbia Southern where it enters the province of British Columbia. He made desperate time for many days, sometimes getting over as much as forty miles of a rough and mountainous road between night and morning. For days he travelled without a trail at all, and finally got lost and wandered a week in Montana and Northern Idaho without knowing where he was going. It was this lost time which led to Remy's capture, as he was across the line and into Canada before the chase started, and had he made a direct route would probably have been out of the country altogether before they could have overtaken him.

Crossing at Gateway, he went via Nelson to Vancouver. By the time he had reached the latter place Sheriff Scharrenbough had reached Nelson, and Remy's capture was made in Vancouver on a wire from the Nelson police.
